GRAVE WRECKERS NOW IN JAIL

"Leo" The Lion Reaches Cameron, Passes On To Rockdale; Has Traveled Through Many States

Carthage Missouri Lions carved a lion out of native marble, built a permanent traveling box house for it, and visited the Joplin, Mo., Lions Club and presented the Lion to Joplin Lions to be passed on to another club. The condition for passing 'Leo" on to another club is that the present holder shall visit a neighboring Lions club at its regular luncheon.

After traveling for many years and going through the hands of many clubs, "Leo" reached the Cameron Lions Club this week where he will remain until Cameron Lions visit a neighboring club. Waco Lions brought Leo to Cameron on Ladies night recently when officers were installed.

The unique traveling Lion is in possession of Howard Whatley at the Cameron Hotel. Cameron citizens are invited to stop by and see the interesting novelty. A register book accompanies Leo wherever he goes and permanent record is kept of every club he visits. Cameron Lions have already notified the Carthage Lions of plans to leave the Lion with the Rockdale club at its next regular luncheon.

Lions heard committee chairman port on their plans for the ensuing years work. The Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of the First Baptist Church was a visitor as guest of H. Whatley.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE PLACES LARGE NUMBER

A new tempo for June employment in and around Cameron was marked when the local office of the Texas State Employment Service reported a total of 335 placements in private industry within the last thirty days, a decided increase over placements for June of 1938 which totaled 55.

The contributing factors in this upgrade of employment around Cameron, according to R. C. Moody, local manager, are a good farm season and a steady growth in the community's usage of the Employment Service as a clearing house for labor.

In this county, 290 farm laborers were laced in the cotton fields during June.

There were 52 new applications for work at the employment office last month, Moody reports. Many of them ycung people who have just graduated from high school, who are not planning to attend college and are looking for a job where they can begin their careers in the business world. Many, too, were young people seeking summer work between school or college sessions.

SEEKING MONEY SAY MEXICANS

Myster surrounding a strange case of vandalism in Little River Cemetery in which a tombstone over the graves of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barmore has been twice overturned and the concrete base destroyed, has been completely solved.

At 1:30 a. m. this morning Sheriff Max Kennedy and deputies, caught two Mexicans as they left the grave, and witnessed the final stage of their work of destruction. Crow bars, concrete chisels, spades, sledges and other equipment were carefully sacked by the men just before they left the grave and walked into the arms of the waiting officers.

The men in jail are: Tascual Vargan and Jose Charles. Both have told their story.

Sheriff Kennedy was roused from his bed at midnight. The Mexicans were making considerable disturbance as they broke the concrete into small bits. When the officers reached the cemetery, they watched the men at work for a few minutes. Sheriff Kennedy, crawling through the mud and rain got within a few feet of the men before they began walking away from the grave. Deputy Clarence McCall was stationed a short distance away as the men walked out.

The Mexicans said they had been told that the late Jim Barmore, rich planter, had placed between $25,000 and $30,000 in the concrete base of the tombstone and they were after the money. Another Mexican, Joe Martine, now in Mexico, told Vargan and Charles that Mr. Barmore, at the time of the construction of the base, drew his money from a Cameron bank and placed it in the concrete. This was a number of years ago. Martine assisted Mr. Barmore and others in the work of building the monument base.

Sheriff Kennedy was being congratulated by citizens of the Little River Community on this good work.

"3 Smart Girls Grow Up," Money Back Guaratee Picture Opens at Cameron Here Sunday; One of 2 Guarantee Pictures Included in July's Program

One Smart Girl is growing up.

She's wearing higher heels, longer skirts, more grown-up hats. She's sixteen "going on seventeen," she'll tell you.

Definitely, Deanna Durbin is no longer a child.

Deanna celebrated her sixteenth birthday December 4, 1938. The young singing star, who comes to the Cameron Theatre Sunday in her latest Universal production, "Three Smart Girls Grown Up," passed this milestone without any immediate manifestation of the transition into young adolescence. To those near her, though, the occasion emphasized the outward and inward changes which "sweet sixteen" have brought to Deanna.

Incident Revealed

Revealing and typifying these changes was a little incident during the making of "Three Smart Girls Grow Up." One of the sets had a highly polished floor and a big mirror against a wall. Dressed in an ice blue and silver evening gown, (her first formal on the screen,) Deanna surveyed herself critically in the mirror, seriously studying the beautiful garment. Unaware that she was being observed, she whirled about in graceful attitudes, watching her reflections from the mirror and the polished floor.

And more recently, Deanna has been wearing lipstick. "Your lips look so dead without it," she explains.

Her clothes are more on the grown up side, her mother declares Deanna has abandoned the "beanie" hat,

Government Workers Get Lay Off From Public Works Here

Sixty--Seven government workers engaged in road work in Commissioner Precinct 1 will not return to work Monday, it was learned here today when Grady Stidham, commissioner, received notice from the government.

The nation wide strike of workers has nothing to do with the job here. It was claimed work is being halted pending improvement in conditions at the gravel pit as its present state is unsafe for workers. This job is under Government supervision and Mr. Stidham is in no way responsible for the lay off of men.

Two Narrowly Escape Death in Wreck Here

Incorrect information yesterday caused an error in reporting a wreck on the river road east of the city. The wreck resulted when a truck owned by the RC-Cola Company turned in suddenly at the Hilltop Tavern and a coupe in which Rufus Graves, Jr., and Scott Baldridge, Jr., of Rockdale, crashed the truck. The occupants of the coupe said they did not know the truck would suddenly cross the road in front of them.

As a father and husband he developed the full stature of his kind nature. His children knew the wisdom of his counsel and the example of integrity peculiar to men of his day and generation.

Funeral services were held at 4 p. m. Sunday from the family residence with Rev. Maurice Grove, pastor of the First Christian Church delivering the sermon. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery. Phillips & Lucky of Rockdale directed funeral arrangements.

Mr. Wiley was a native born son of Milam county and spent his entire life in this county. He was born at San Gabriel where in later years he became a large land owner. It was there that he met and married Miss Martha Davidson, also a native of Milam county. To them were born nine children, one of whom is dead, with eight surviving, two girls and six boys.

Pall mearers were from friends dating back to his official days as tax assessor for Milam county, and others as follows: Judge John Watson, Judge W. G. Gillis, Penn Wolf, H. B. McClellen, A. J. Lewis, Wm. Rogers, Frank Monroe and Will Vaughan.

Building Little Bodies Is Work of Day Nursery; City Must Not Fail Underprivileged Children

Food and care, so vital to children whose homes cannot provide them, appeared possible here today when it became known that support of the day nursery which now must fall more heavily on the community, would cost no more than $51.84 per month in addition to the amount now paid by the School Board and Chamber of Commence.

The government now requires the local community to supply food for the school. To those who believe that "charity should begin at home" the story of the nursery and how it has been building little bodies against the day when they must go to school, the present crisis will hold an especial appeal.

Figures supplied Tuesday reveal that what on yesterday seemed impossible, now may be within the means of the community, notwithstanding its already numerous sacrifices for others. It was thought possible that civic organizations could join with the school, city and Chamber of Commerce without burden on any and keep the nursery in operation.

From day to day these facts will be given the people so that they may know in time to protect these children against hunger and lack of care. The story of the Day Nursery is the story of welfare in its most praiseworthy efforts.

Do you want to be a Good Samaritan? If so pledge a Dollar per month and leave your name at The Herald office.

Tombstone On Grave In Little River Cemetery Twice Overturned; Vandals Dig Into Concrete

A large tombstone erected at the grave of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barmore in Little River Cemetery, was overturned and the concrete foundation badly damaged by picks and bars, it was reported to Sheriff Kennedy Monday by H. L. Atkinson and Valter White of Maysfield.

Two years ago this same stone was overturned and an effort made to dig beneath the concrete foundation. Thus twice within the two years an attempt has been made to destroy this large marker.

Officers here went to the cemetary to ascertain if any finger prints could be found. There has been no plausible explanation of the act of vandalism. Officers were inclined to belive the vandal was seeking treasure he believed was encased in the concrete.

A close watch is to be kept over the cemetery to prevent any further disturbance of this tombstone and with the view of making an arrest. A heavy penalty attaches to violations of this kind.

Officers go to San Antonio in Search of Mexican; Concrete Base at Grave Is Totally Destroyed

Officers returned last night from San Antonio where they investigated a clue based on information given by a Mexican in the Little River cemetery community regarding recent vandalism that led to destruction of a monument base over the graves of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barmore.

The latest development in the case was the total destruction on Monday night of the concrete base which held the tombstone, twice overturned by vandals. When the matter was reported to officers here Monday the concrete base had been deeply chipped. On Monday night the base was totally destroyed.

Sheriff Kennedy, Valter White and Mr. Massengale went to San Antonio Tuesday to trace a Mexican and his car. The man proved his innocence. Car tracks were found at the cemetery, also a witness is able to identify the car seen where the vandals were at work.

City Marshal Smith Stabbed in Altercation With Negro Woman

Trouble in the black belt Saturday night brough City Marshal Gene Smith a stinging knife cut in the left leg. The Marshal was winning by big odds a fist fight with a negro woman. He told the woman to leave a place in another section of town but the woman refused to leave. Later on he found her in another section of the belt and again told her to go home. She again refused. The Marshal brought his fists into play with brass knucks and the negro woman was knocked down several times. She thrust at him with a knife and the Marshal was cut in the leg, only a slight flesh wound.

A wedding of much interest in Cameron because of the prominence of local relatives occured in Lampassas on Saturday morning, July 8 when Miss Clara Andres became the bride of Michael Pierce of Bandera. The ceremony was performed by Father William Roach in a single ring arrangement of the martial vows. The wedding occured at the Catholic rectory. Attendants were Mrs. Ruby Kireschvink and Dean Word. The bride is well known in Cameron, a sister of Mrs. William Balhorn and John C. Andres. She is superintendent of the Rollings-Brook hospital in Lampasas, having been with the hospital since June 1935. Mr Pierce is employed by the Dean Word Construction Company and the son of Mrs. Ida Pike Pierce of Bandera. The staff at the nospital gave a reception at the rectory following the wedding. Mrs. Kireschvink presided at the wedding cake and Miss Rosalee Herren served the punch. The couple will make their home in Lampassas.

Honoring Mrs. Ira Lee Parker, a recent bride, Mrs. T. B. Stidham entertained with a miscellaneous shower on last Thursday afternoon, about 45 guests registered in a pretty bride's book, and autographed a rolling pin.

Miss LaNell Burnett, sister of the bride presided at the bride's book which was presented to the honoree.

Daisies decorated the rooms in beautiful style.

A clever arranged game of hand shaking and milling around, found some, in an unlucky spot, and had to pay a forfeit to redeem themselves. First to be caught on the "spot" were Misses Jane Hearn and Dorothy Jane Harrell who sang "My Blue Heaven," with Miss Ila Jean Stidham at the piano.

But still more unlucky spots, and Mesdmaes J. A. Bailey and S. S Hickman were found to be on them, they in turn gave some very valuable advice to the bride, while Mrs. Laura Shrader gave some advice to the groom.

Immediately following the singing of "My Bungalow of Dreams" by Miss Ila Jean Stidham, Little Barbara Jo Young, presented the bride with a corsage of daisies and invited her to walk down a daisy strewn lane at the end of which she found a minature bungalow filled with gifts.

The dining room table had been converted into a landscape scene, with a lighted bungalow in the center of a green lawn, and the bride and groom alighting from a minature car, at the front door. The top of the bungalow was removable, and open it being lighted, many gifts were revealed. The bride expressed appreciation for the many lovely items.

Delicious ice cream and angel food cake were served by the hostess.

Mrs. S. S. Hickman.

Change Diet

Deanna does not eat as much ice cream or candy as she formerly did, nor does she "piece" between meals. She does not drink coffee yet however. Milk is still her beverage. And she has given up chewing gum.

She has become quite interested in reading. During the past year she has read "Gone with the Wind," "All This and Heaven, Too," "Northwest Passage," "Rebecca," "The Citadel," "Madame Curie" and "White Banners."

She has learned to dance the fox trot and Lambeth Walk, but will not attempt 'Jitterbug" steps. She has learned to drive a car and has already obtained her driver's license.

Remains Adolescent

But bearing in mind that Deanna is only sixteen, her producer, Joe Pasternak, is not yet casting her in roles of a highly romantic nature. "In Three Smart Girls Grow Up," she is seen as a young girl who tries to straighten out the tangled love affairs of her two older sisters, the roles played by Nan Grey and Helen Parrish. With them in the picture will be seen Robt. Cummings, Charles Winninger, William Lunligan, Ernest Cossart and Nella Walker. Henry Koster, who directed "Three Smart Girls," "100 Men and a Girl," and "The Rage of Paris," was at the megaphone.

Lucy Turner and Charlotte Stidham of Houston are visiting friends in Cameron.

To Query Women All Over South

Touring Reporters have now asked over 1,200 women and girls of leading Southern Cities the now famous question: "Were you helped by CARDUI?"

Averaging all replies so far shows that 93 out of every 100 users questioned declared CARDUI benefitted them!

Users by thousands are eager to tell how CARDUI has given them appetite; helped them gain strength; has thus relieved them of the symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Many also say that, when symptoms indicate the need, CARDUI in larger doses helps "at the time" to soothe pain.

Headache, Bad Breath Tell of More to Come

Just as Paul Revere's famous ride warned of the Redcoats' coming, so Nature's messengers — headaches, biliousness, bad breath—often warn of faulty elimination.

Neglecting these signs may cause a host of constipation's discomforts: sour stomach, belching; no appetite or energy; mental dullness.

It's so easy to wake up your lazy insides. Just take spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. Its unusual help comes from its principal ingredient—an intestinal tonic-laxative which imparts tone to lazy bowel muscles.

Millions of packages used testify to BLACK-DRAUGHT'S merit. Try it.

LONE STAR GAS SYSTEM

- ★ 4,700 MILES OF TRANSPORTATION PIPELINES
- ★ 1,000 GAS WELLS IN 46 SEPARATE GAS FIELDS
- ★ 3,000 TRAINED AND EXPERIENCED EMPLOYEES

As we reach our thirtieth birthday, we are mindful of the responsibility that goes with our job. We renew our pledge to the policy that has guided us through the years—"First, find out what is the right thing to do ...then, what is the right way to do it."

We know that homes must have heat and that many depend entirely upon our service. If we should fall down on the job there would be inconvenience, discomfort, suffering in many homes. We realize that, even though our customers seldom think about it, they have confidence in our ability to render dependable service and rely on it being available instantly and without interruption day or night, throughout the years, regardless of the weather. We know it is the responsibility of each of us of Lone Star never to fail that trust.

L. B. Denning

30 YEARS AGO

In 1909 Lone Star Gas Company pioneered the development of natural gas in Texas. The first natural gas pipeline, 126 miles long, from Petrolia, Texas, to Fort Worth and Dallas, was an epochal event in Southwestern progress and indicative of a greater growth and development to come.

"I'm From Missouri" Says Bob Burns in Film By Same Name; Opens Here on July 20th.

I'm From Missouri!"

This traditional American motto of the man who wants things proved to him refers to Bob Burns, king of the homespun humorists, in his latest picture "I'm From Missouri," which Paramount will present locally July 20 and 21 at the Cameron Theatre.

What Burns wants proved to him in this new, down to earth comedy is that mules are inferior to machinery when it comes to equipping an army. And to show that he's a Missourian in spirit as well as in fact, Bob goes all the way to London, where the heads of the British army, unable to rove their point, accept his!

"I'm From Missouri" shows Burns for the first time since "The Arizona Traveler," which picture marked his change from light musical comedy roles to the portrayal of homespun American characters. The new picture continues the trend, casting Bob as an ardent mule fancier, a family man and Missouri's "unofficial ambassador" to England.

Burns and his new screen wife, Gladys George, leave Missouri for London when word comes out that England is preparing to motorize the mule units of the army in accordance with the advice of Burns' rival, Gene Lockhart, mahinery manufacturer. Burns goes abroad to save his business and that of his friend. Miss George, on the other hand, goes to crash British society.

While the "man from Missouri" is busy challenging British army officials to show him why machinery is superior to mules, the "woman from Missouri" defies society to exclude anybody as ambitious and determined as she is. Although Burns' husbandlike devotion to his mule and his scorn for "society foolinshness" almost cause a rift, he fixes things up with a couple of clever Yankee tricks and brings both Miss George's social campaign and his own mule expedition to a successful conclusion.

Of course,
a CAR'S not a DROMEDARY

. . . nor is a concrete highway a desert. Nevertheless, if half we hear is true, certainly no traveler of desert wastes ever looked for a spot of green more eagerly than the experienced Texas motorist looks for the oval Humble sign! So we call the Humble Service Station a highway oasis, a refreshing stop for both the car which is your modern beast of burden and yourself . . . Wherever you see the sign of a Humble Service Station, you can stop with the confident expectation of finding a place equipped and manned to keep your car running right and looking good, to speed you on your way. Products for your car—motor fuels, motor oils, lubricants, tires, batteries, accessories — are second to none in quality; and as for yourself--well, stop next time at a Humble Service Station and see. Note the cleanliness of the restrooms, the abundance of ice water, the cool shade, the grassy lawn, the flowers, the shrubs. And above all, note how the neatly uniformed salesman services your car. You'll discover that he's a friendly fellow who knows his business; he's genuinely anxious to be helpful to you; he's prompt, courteous, efficient . . . Maybe you're a regular Humble customer and we're wasting words on you; but if you're not, the latchstring's out, and we'll be expecting you!

"Kid From Texas" Is Saturday Film At Cameron Theatre

Thrills of the West and hilarious adventures amid Long Island's polo-minded socialites engage Dennis O'Keefe in a lively series of trials and tribulations in "The Kid from Texas," second of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sports drama featuring the actor, which comes Saturday to the Cameron Theatre.

Teamed for the second time with Florence Rice, O'Keefe enacts a Texas cowboy who, after seeing polo in a newsreel, takes up the game, practices on the range, invades Long Island, makes love to an heiress, and after varied polo mishaps intermingled with setbacks in his whirlwind courtship, winds up in a Wild West show, captaning a polo game between cowboys and "Wild" Indians, most of whom graduated from Harvard. This wins him the heiress, played by Miss Rice.

Thrills of polo, played by several star polo teams on famous fields, a rescue dash and a fight of the cowboy hero with the crew of a millionaire's yacht are mingled with comedy interludes, such as the polo player's ball accidentally hitting the richest woman in Long Island; the proposal while following a dashing automobile; the hill-billy serenade of O'Keefe and Buddy Ebsen, and the "rescue in the lake," in which O'Keefe finds the water is only up to his knees.

Sylvan Simon who megaphoned "Four Girls in White," directed the new picture from an original story by Milton Merlin and Byron Morgan.

Prominently cast in "The Kid from Texas" with O'Keefe and Miss Rice are Anthony Allen as a socialite polo player, Jessie Ralph as the forbidding but softhearted Aunt Minetta, heir to railroad millions, Buddy Ebsen as' 'Snifty," O'Keefe's cowboy pal Virginia Dale, one of Clark Gable's "Glamour Girls" of "Idiot's Delight," as the girl sharpshooter in the Wild West show, Bobt. Wilcox Jack Carson Helen Lynd, J. M. Kerrigan and Tully Marshall.

Dawn Patrol of Women Features Preview Film Here Saturday

Taking cognizance of the fact that in this modern age the field of adventure is no longer restricted to what was once known as the sterner sex, Warner Bros. has produced, in "Women in the Wind," which is Preview at the Cameron Theatre Saturday, a stirring tale of the adventures of women fliers.

Kay Francis and William Gargan are the top-featured members of a cast which also includes Victor Jory, Maxine Rosenbloom, Eddie Joy, Jr., Sheila Bromley, Eve Arden, Rosella Towne, Ila Rhodes, Vera Lewis, Frankie Burke and Charles Anthony Hughes.

While it is a fact that no character in the piece is intended to represent any living person, the spectator will undoubtedly be reminded, as the picture unfolds, of some notable events and some notable persons in recent aviation history.

The two weeks protracted meeting began at the First Baptist church Sunday, and will continue this and next week. Night services will be held on the lawn at the church, beginning at 8 o'clock.

"Under Cover Doctor" Gang Story Picture Here Tues. and Wed.

J. Carrol Naish, veteran screen villian, appearing in the title role of "Undercover Doctor," which arrives next Tuesday at the Cameron Theatre is a human chameleon. An Irishman who looks like an Italian, Naish once palmed himself off as a Jew in order to get a job with a Yiddish theatrical troupe!

Naish traces his peculiar adaptability to his boyhood days when he lived in a tough section of Manhattan. On Sundays, he was a very well-behaved choir boy in St. Patrick's Cathedral; the rest of the week, he swore like a trouper. Not that he was a problem child or anything like that. It was simply a matter of adapting one's self to the environment. At home, of course, Naish was a most proper young man. As the ace-villain says, "I'm afraid I became a hypocrite at a very tender age."

He discovered he could mimic anybody, in particular, his Aunt Mary the bishop and the colored bootblack on the corner. Naish acquired true versatility right after the Big Bust-up of 1914-18. Upon being demobilized from Uncle Sam's air corps, Naish gravitated to theatricals. The late Gaby Deslys asked Naish to join her troupe in "Madame Frou Frou." This began a four year European tour during which time he played in Vienna, Budapest, Rome, Berlin, Madrid, Brussels, Amsterman and Stockholm. He returned to America the master of four languages and twenty dialects.

Uses No Dialect This Time

Oddly enough, for his latest roie in "Undercover Doctor," Naish uses no dialect, but gives a straightforward, convincing performance as a brilliant but weak-willed surgeon who finds the going tough and decides to throw in his lot with a gang of cut-throats. With the heavy money, he derives from his illegal practice, he sets up a deluxe office in the swanky section of the city.

"Westerns Are On Their Own," Say Picture Critics

Western pictures are back in vogue, say motion picture critics all over the country. And this fact is proved in box-office returns. Stars like Gene Autry, Roy Rogers and the ever-popular Three Mesquiteers John Wayne, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune — whose latest picture, "Overland Stage Raiders" opens at Milam Theatre Friday, are drawing more fan mail than many of Hollywood's most highly published stars.

It is small wonder that outdoor dramas are high in public favor. They have all the ingredients of excellent entertainment. At one time, western stories were slighted by the studios, and very little time or preparation put in on them. No longer is this so. High paid writers—with backgrounds that fit them to write about the west—are now assigned to action screen plays, and as a result, the standard of western pictures has been raised to that of any other type of film.

"Overland Stage Raiders" is an excellent example of the new trend in western pictures. It is full of action, romance, drama and comedy, and is being hailed as the best of this extremely popular series.

Miss Ethel McKinney of Jones Prairie will be on the program for the Short Course at A & M College on July 13. This is the 35th anniversary of the movement and Miss McKinney will represent 2080 Home Demonstration Clubs in Texas.

Miss Kathrine Barchey entertained on Thursday, July 6th, with two tables of bridge in her room at the home of Mrs. J. C. Mayfield. After the game refreshments were served to the following guests. Myra Lee Fanning, Ida Byrd Mayfield, Margaret Johnson, Louie Dunbar, Carl Spelce, Oliver Newton and Reed Rogers.
